

ISO MASTER Quality Management System Maintenance for Small Business

ISOMASTER is a service specially designed for the small business, where not only are there no dedicated specialist staff for quality system management, but the appropriate expertise is not available in-house. In such cases the quality management function is invariably placed on the shoulders of a manager with other responsibilities, e.g. production, purchasing, etc. – the result is usually that the quality management role gets neglected and the prime function often suffers too! ISOMASTER provides skilled expertise as and when needed for a small fixed monthly payment – relieving the burden of the routine quality management system functions like internal auditing and management review from your staff at a very modest cost.

Could you employ an expert Quality System Manager for less than £50 per week? *

Key Features:

- All internal audits planned and carried out by qualified and experienced auditors in accordance with the requirements of ISO9001:2008. Full reports prepared, along with notices of any non-conformances found and opportunities for improvement identified.
- Full annual management review(s) prepared and presented to management team in accordance with ISO9001:2008 specification. Minutes and corrective/improvement actions recorded.
- Management of the Approval Body's assessment/surveillance audit programme, and acting as guide during audit visits.
- Constantly available e-mail support on all aspects related to the quality management system.
- Fixed monthly payments,
- Access to Mirams Waterhouse's additional products and services at preferential rates, e.g. QMS software, document generation and management systems, process mapping, training, etc.

Benefits:

- Routine elements of the quality management system, like internal auditing and management review, are taken care of by experienced specialists.
- Allows staff to concentrate on their primary responsibilities.
 - The programme highlights not only areas of non-conformity, but also identifies opportunities for improvement.
 - Continual access to expert advice and services as needed.
 - Keeps the cost of effective management of your quality system to an absolute minimum, with easy-to-budget-for fixed monthly payments.
 - Helps your quality management system work for you to promote ongoing improvement rather than be an administrative burden.

* No, but you can employ our ISOMASTER Quality Management Team for as little as £48.46 (plus VAT) per week!
(Based on a business employing around 20 staff, providing full system audits, one management review, e-mail support and advice, and managing one audit by an approval body per year.)
